The Great ShakeOut Earthquake Drill is an opportunity to prepare yourself, your family, and your organization by practicing protective actions to take during earthquakes and other aspects of your emergency plans.

- The Great ShakeOut Earthquake Drill will occur on 10/18/18 at 1018 hours.
- Join 10 million Californians by participating in the ShakeOut Earthquake Drill and Drop, Cover, and Hold On or Lock, Cover, and Hold On
- During an emergency, communication is important. Always have an extra list of important contact telephone numbers written down in case you lose or are unable to charge your telephone; then you will still be able to contact others to let them know you are safe or that you need assistance.
- Remember to update or assemble an emergency supply kit, make a plan, and know how, where, and when to safely evacuate.
- The drill is more fun when it is done with friends, family, neighbors, and colleagues.

Key Points

10/17 - 10/24

Wednesday-Thursday

- Much lighter winds expected, but off-shore flow and dry conditions lingering

Friday-Tuesday

- Slightly increased fire weather concerns due to a weaker Santa Ana offshore wind event across portions of Southern CA, primarily Saturday-Sunday.
  - Increased humidity may limit additional fire weather concerns
  - Less concerned compared to Monday-Tuesday's forecast briefing
  - Wind gusts 20-40 mph possible
- Showers and isolated thunderstorms possible starting Saturday evening in southern CA, and Monday evening in northern CA.

WEATHER SYNOPSIS BY REGION

NORTHERN CALIFORNIA

- Persistent high pressure over the region will continue the warm, dry and occasionally breezy weather through Sunday.
- Daytime minimum relative humidity (RH) 5-18% most areas west of the crest, with overnight recovery to 10-30% in windy areas, only slightly higher later this week and this weekend.
- N-NE/Offshore gusts to 20-35 mph this morning throughout the western Cascade-Sierra slopes, the Sacramento Valley and surrounding foothills, and on the mid and upper slopes of the Coast Range, diminishing by this afternoon.
- N-NE/Offshore gusts to 25 mph nights and mornings throughout the western Cascade-Sierra slopes, the Sacramento Valley and surrounding foothills, and on the mid and upper slopes of the Coast Range through Sunday, with light onshore/up-valley/upslope during afternoons. Warm and very dry conditions will persist.
- Spotty light rain possible in week 2 with low pressure troughs arriving.

SOUTHERN CALIFORNIA

- A high pressure ridge along with weak offshore flow will continue to produce sunny, warm and dry weather to the area through Friday. A slight uptick in offshore gradients will lead to a bit stronger northeast winds Friday and Saturday during the morning hours. Isolated showers will be possible in the desert over the weekend. Look for cooler weather and higher RH to slowly return Saturday into early next week.
- High temperatures in the upper 50s and 60s in the mountains to the 80s in the valleys through Friday. Temperatures cooling 2-3 degrees Saturday and Sunday with readings returning to near normal by Monday.
- East and northeast winds 5-10 mph today and Thursday, increasing to 20 mph both Friday and Saturday morning. Winds will be strongest in Ventura and Los Angeles Counties. Light winds Sunday into next week.
- Very low daytime RH through Friday. RH recovery was poor last night in the midslope areas with a few areas only rising into the 15-25% range. Look for widespread 8-12% readings for 6-8 hours each day through Friday below 6,000 feet away from the coast.
- Isolated showers and thunderstorms will be possible in the desert Saturday through Monday.
